TEXT 1

Read the text and questions below. For questions 1- 5, choose the correct answer from A, B, C or D on your answer sheet.

JAZZ

By Katie Atkins, aged 14

I play the trumpet in my school jazz band. Last month we held a jazz competition with bands from local high schools – and our band won!

Each band had their own costumes, ranging from black school uniforms like my band wore, to brightly-coloured T-shirts. We didn't look much like adult professional bands, but all of us were used to performing in competitions, so the quality of playing was amazing, especially considering everyone was so young. Players from each band even created new tunes right there on stage. It was exciting to watch – but even better when my band played on stage! We have a great jazz band at my school, but not everyone who wants to play in it gets accepted – only about half, in fact. But anyone who's keen to play goes to jazz practice before school, and we often spend time together after school, listening to jazz and learning its language. There are also trips to jazz summer camps across the country – I've been to a couple and learnt a lot.

Adults are often surprised that young people are getting interested in jazz. My music teacher thinks it's because pop music isn't challenging enough for people like me who are serious about music. But I find it exciting because it's both new and old at the same time – you can create your own music, but you also feel you're part of its history, as you're playing on stage in the same way as great jazz performers before you. My school's really lucky because we have great teachers, and parents who've supported us all the way. Without them, we'd never get anywhere with our music!

1. What is Katie trying to do in the text?

- A encourage young people to try to listen to more jazz
- B explain how jazz is becoming popular with young people
- C advertise young people's jazz events in her area
- D give advice on how to create great jazz music

2. Katie says the bands in her school's jazz competition

- A played music they'd written themselves before they came.
- B had little experience of playing in public.
- C played at a high level despite their age.
- D were dressed to look like professional jazz bands.

3. Most people at Katie's school who are interested in jazz

- A attend early jazz sessions at school.
- B join the school jazz band.

- C learn about jazz in after-school classes.
- D go to jazz summer camps at the school.

4. Why does Katie enjoy playing jazz so much?

- A she finds it easier to learn than other forms of music.
- B she thinks it is more serious than pop music.
- C she likes the chance to perform with others on stage.
- D she feels in touch with jazz players of the past.

5. Which of the following would Katie write to a friend?

- A The competition was great, but I think I preferred being in the audience to playing – I was nervous!
- B My mum and dad always do all they can to help with my trumpet playing – I couldn't do this successfully without their help.
- C One band wore really colourful clothes, but we chose dark costumes. maybe that's one reason why they won instead of us.
- D One music teacher left a while ago and no one's replaced him yet. We just haven't got anyone good to help us now.

Memories of a non-digital era by Lindsay Harris

I was helping my dad tidy up the attic when we came across his old computer. It was so big and old-fashioned! He used the computer to write essays for his homework. The internet didn't exist when he was younger, so he couldn't spend time chatting online or posting messages on social media. Imagine! When he wanted to talk to a friend, he used to use the telephone in the house because mobile phones weren't common. Only rich businessmen had them and they were large and heavy. So when dad made plans to meet a friend, they couldn't contact each other to say if they would be late. They just had to wait. How boring! Dad said his uncle used to live in Australia, and the only time Grandpa spoke to his brother was once a year because telephone calls abroad were so expensive. Instead, they often wrote letters to each other. Now, we can video call anyone in the world for free! Dad said he hadn't realized how much life has changed because of technology until he came across all his old stuff!

6. Lindsay's grandpa often used to send _____ to his brother in Australia. (1 word)

Read Mark's blog post and fill in the gaps with TWO missing words 7-8.

A simpler life – by Mark Watson

Last year, I remember feeling unhappy on Black Friday. That's the day in November when retailers try to make us spend as much money as possible. Months before Black Friday, I began receiving loads of emails and brochures with advertisements for products and services. When I didn't buy them, retailers started sending me special offers. Worried that I would miss such great bargains, I bought the products even if I didn't want or need them. As the money I had saved got lower and my email box more full, I realized I was miserable and in danger of having no money left.

That was when I decided to make a change and to only buy things that I actually needed. I quickly realized that I only needed to spend money on food and transport – the basics! I began to see that I didn't really use a lot of what I already had. My wardrobe was full of clothes and shoes from famous brands, still with the labels on. I returned all the items that I had receipts for and gave away what I didn't really need.

With all the money I have saved, I can afford to go on holiday. That's much more fun! I can even save for driving lessons and I dream of having my own car one day.

Task : In the end, Mark decided to (7) _____ buying so many things. He thought it was better to

(8) _____ his money instead.

Hi Stephanie – How are you? Sorry you couldn't make my party at the weekend. Lots happened ... I told you that Mum and Dad agreed to a party for my birthday. They were worried we might upset the neighbours. So I was allowed to have a party, but only if I promised not to invite more than ten of my closest friends and it had to finish at eleven o'clock.

The night of the party came and Mum and Dad left the house for the evening. My friends arrived, and we put some music on. Half an hour later, a large group of people from school arrived. They had all heard about the party. Amy admitted she was so excited about the party that she might have mentioned it on social media! I was so annoyed with her.

By nine o'clock, there must have been over 70 people in the house. Someone kept turning up the music after I kept turning it down. Then people started singing along to it. I was so stressed by the noise. What might the neighbours think? What would Mum and Dad do?

Ten minutes later, there was a knock at the door. It was our neighbour. I was afraid what she might say. I explained the situation. I was so embarrassed. I was surprised at how sympathetic she was. Thankfully, she took control of the situation. She turned off the music and told all the uninvited guests to go home. I don't know if I want to have another party at home!

9. Claire felt _____ because the party was so noisy, but the noise stopped when her _____ took control.
